Anachronauts and Low Tech Riff Raff to Perform at The Mill

Anachronauts, the band not of hard rock, but of hard science, will perform at 8pm Friday, June 23 at The Mill, 225 E. Main St. in Tipp City. Surprise door prizes will be awarded during Anachronauts' set. Also appearing will be Low Tech Riff Raff, a group that entertains with songs about, "life, love, and donut cravings."

Anachronauts is one of the Dayton area's newest bands, having relocated from Louisiana in August of 1994, and was recently described by the Dayton Voice as having "a sound no other area band can match." Anachronauts has been described as sounding like "Devo with a really good Baptist church choir soloist singing a rousing chorus to beef up collection plate donations" (Ken Marsh, Daily Reveille) and has been said to have a sound that will please both acoustic and electric fans alike" (Julie Stripling, The Neutral Line.)

The Mill has a good atmosphere and excellent acoustics. No alcoholic beverages are allowed in the Mill, and all ages are encouraged to attend. There will be a cover charge of $4.00 charged at the door. For more information on the Mill, contact Steve Watson at 667-3696. For interviews or more information on Anachronauts, contact Stacey Burright at 436-0423.
